

cus on his business and personal perspectives. A 30-minute question-and-answer session will follow his hourlong speech. Admission is free, but those interested in attending are asked to RSVP by calling 216-361-2746.

BRAIN GAIN

A newcomer's story

Daniel Adam Schlanger

Age: 34

Occupation: Staff attorney, Legal Aid Society of Cleveland.

From: Grew up in Chappaqua, N.Y. Has lived in Minnesota, California, Boston, Atlanta. Moved to Cleveland from Israel, where he spent nine months studying religion.

Lives in: Shaker Heights

Best part about NEO: "The people. As a newcomer, I really appreciate Ohioans' friendliness."

Least favorite: "Lack of mountains."

What he'd change: "The economy. Too many folks are struggling in this area."

Why he's here: "I got a chance to do exactly the work I wanted to do in a very livable city. There was a tremendous opportunity here to work with the immigrant community to improve people's awareness of their rights at work, and to help people who have been treated unfairly or been taken advantage of by their employers."

Forget brain drain — Business Monday wants to spotlight brain gain! If you've recently moved to Northeast Ohio, drop us a line at bizmon@plaind.com, or 1801 Superior Ave., Cleveland 44114. For resources for newcomers, visit www.cleveland.com/youngprofessionals.

Education: Bachelor of business administration in information and artifacts from

To suggest a candidate for the On the Job feature, contact reporter Marcia Pledger at 216-

LeFloria-Bogard

Henry

Banjac

Batchelder

Delahunt

ON THE GO

A compilation of recent promotions and hires.

BIOTECHNOLOGY

Cleveland BioLabs Inc.: John Gordon was appointed director of clinical operations. The Cleveland company has been developing drugs that could protect human cells against damage from high doses of gamma radiation.

CONSTRUCTION

Northeast Ohio Trenching Service Inc.: Eric Sanders Sr. was hired as a project manager/estimator. The Warrensville Heights company provides utility replacement and installation services.

FINANCIAL SERVICES

Paytime Payroll Processing: Patricia Anderson and Danika Pletcher were hired as client service representatives and Karen Fruchter as operations assistant for the Solon payroll service bureau.

Skoda, Minotti & Co.: The Mayfield accounting and financial services firm has named Rob Gaglione to head Skoda, Minotti & Co. Financial Staffing, a recruitment service to help clients fill their financial staffing needs.

WECO Funds Inc.: Christine Henry was appointed executive director of the Cleveland nonprofit organization providing economic empowerment of low-to moderate-income individuals, families and organizations.

HEALTH CARE

Cambridge Home Health

Care: Juanita LeFloria-Bogard was promoted to branch manager of the Akron office, Sheryl Smiley was promoted to billing and payroll specialist in the Ravenna office, Judy Creque joined the Ravenna office as director of nursing, Cathy Sheetz joined the Elyria office as scheduling supervisor and Nancy West as office assistant, and Ruth Williams was promoted to senior care specialist in the Middleburg Heights office.

HIGHER EDUCATION

John Carroll University: Maggie Cretella was named director of corporate and foundation relations.

Kent State University: Those joining the faculty in the School of Journalism and Mass Communication are Jeanette Drake, associate professor in the new public relations master's program; Jacquie Marino, magazine; Jan Leach, news; Joe Murray, electronic media; and Hyangsook Lee, information design.

Myers University: Joyce Banjac was named dean of faculty and the Charles McDonald School of Business, Dale Fox was named professor of information technology, and William Barton was named professor of marketing.

Walsh University: Jacquie Batchelder was named director of gift planning.

HOSPITALITY

Hotel & Leisure Advisors: Nan Delahunt joined the Lakewood national hospitality consulting and appraisal firm as an associate.

LAW FIRMS

Benesch Friedlander Coplan

& Aronoff LLP: law firm's Cleveland associates are Hansa Porate and se group, Scott Le ness reorgan group and Deni tellectual-prop group. Ryan B firm as director ing and profes ment. Megan named chair of t securities practi

Singerman M Kauntz Co. LP has become an Beachwood law. Weston Hurd L betto joined the land office as an

MANUFACTU

Frontline Inte Giovanni Brienz director of manu Barberton make cooking oil ma ucts and system and other indust

Roll-Kraft: Ji added to the s headquarters p. Roll-Kraft make roll forming an industry.

Timken Co.: J. appointed senio and controller, cassa was nam president of tax the Canton man

Watteredge In was named gen the industrial h the Avon Lake high-current, l rent-carrying ca products.