Legal Aid Society offers free advice

THE PLAIN DEALER

2:39 p.m.

The Legal Aid Society of Cleveland is offering two free legal advice sessions this month: Saturday at the Spanish American Committee building, 4407 Lorain Ave., Cleveland, and Feb. 24 at the Murtis Taylor Multi-Service Center, 13422 Kinsman Ave. Both will run from 10 a.m. to noon. Volunteer attorneys will give advice to low-income families with civil legal problems on predatory loans, housing, immigration status, divorce, bankruptcy and public benefits. Receive free assistance weekdays by calling the downtown office at 216-687-1900.
