The Legal Aid Society of Cleveland is the fifth oldest legal aid organization in the United States. With 55 staff attorneys, 90 staff members, and 1,400 volunteer lawyers, Legal Aid ensures that low income individuals have access to justice.

For being such an important organization and resource, Legal Aid needed a website that would provide information about their services and mission to the community with ease.

We are happy to announce the launch of their new site, Lascllev.org

"Our goal was to have a website designed that was accessible and easy to use for our clients. We have a lot of useful information and needed a place for all of it on the site, "Melanie Shakarian of Legal Aid commented, "Insivia far exceeded our expectations with the development."

The website covers all of their upcoming events, clinics, latest news, resources and each page is packed with information, therefore overwhelming the visitor was a concern. However, the strategic placement of the content makes information effortless to access from any page and makes specific inquiries easily searchable.
