

FREE INFO SESSION & LEGAL ADVICE CLINIC

Wills, Estate Planning, and Advance Directives

Advance care planning involves discussing and preparing for future decisions about your medical care if you become seriously ill or unable to communicate your wishes. Many people also choose to put their preferences in writing by completing legal documents called advance directives, such as a living will and durable power of attorney for health care. Advance care planning can help ensure you get the care you want and that someone you trust will be there to make decisions for you. Community members who need assistance with advance care and estate planning are invited to join Legal Aid to learn more.
